土岐市美濃陶磁歴史館の「祭りと信仰」 肥田花馬保存会の紹介

The exhibit features a large poster on the left advertising an exhibition titled '祭りと信仰' (Festivals and Beliefs) at the Toki City Meio Ceramic History Museum. The poster includes the date '12月4日・5日' (December 4th and 5th) and '土岐市美濃陶磁歴史館' (Toki City Meio Ceramic History Museum). To the right is a display board titled '復活した花馬' (Resurrected Flower Horse). The board contains text about the 'Omantou' festival, stating that it is held at Hachiman Shrine every year, and describes the 'Omantou' as a decorated horse head made from colored paper. Below the display board is a photograph of a person in traditional attire holding a large, colorful flower-decorated horse head.
